PARIS, July 22.—The American

Department of State's invitation to the Swiss government to send a naval representative to attend the formal opening of the Panama Canal has apparently caused a thrill throughout Europe.

A white-haired man, wearing a heavy gold-brass uniform, was seen pacing the boulevards in a drenching rain this afternoon. When a policeman timidly asked him his rank the man replied:

"I am a Swiss admiral and am proceeding to America."

The policeman saluted, called a taxi and invited the "admiral" to drive with him to an infirmary for the insane. The patient is an insane bartender.

Iowa, Oklahoma and Kansas
Suffering from Record

Indianapolis Four Degrees

So Little Rain in Illinois
That Water Famine
Is Feared.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 22.—The heat wave

which began creeping over the Great Lakes region two days ago, and caused four deaths and many prostrations yesterday, took a firmer grip upon the city today, resulting in six deaths and two suicides. There were also many prostrations and a number of persons, mainly children, bitten by rabid dogs.

The temperature stood at 90 at 8 o'clock this morning, following a hot night, and rapidly mounted until the official figure was 94 at 10, the record for the season. This was the record in the observation tower, high above the furnace-baked pavements. Down in the stifling streets thermometers showed 5 degrees higher, with little air.

All through Illinois and Iowa the heat caused much suffering. In Central Illinois only two inches of rain has fallen since April, and the country is covered with dust. Illinois points along the Mississippi River were six degrees cooler than those in the interior of the State.

Iowa cities reported an average of 80, but a cool wave from the west brought the temperature down to 74 this evening. Forecasters say it will penetrate Illinois tonight and may bring showers, and a fall in temperature.

Oklahoma and Kansas reported 100 and higher during the day, dropping to 94 this evening. The heat is a return of the heat tomorrow. The Eastern States are comparatively cool. From 74 at Boston to 82 in New York. Philadelphia had 86, and Pittsburgh 92, the same figure at Washington and both 18 degrees hotter than Los Angeles.

The Ohio Valley averaged about the same temperature as the Great Lakes. Cincinnati, Grand Rapids, Mich., was only two degrees cooler than Memphis and Milwaukee had the same temperature as Jacksonville, Fla. Indianapolis was four degrees hotter than New Orleans. Arizona points led the column with 104, but it was dry heat and did not cause the suffering that was experienced in the crowded cities, where the humidity was high. There were dashes of rain in parts of Michigan, Louisiana, Florida, Nebraska, Minnesota, Utah and South Dakota, but they were local in character and brought no relief from drought or heat. Western Canada has cooled perceptibly, the highest point being 86 at Medicine Hat, or two degrees cooler than Atlanta, Ga.

HINDU STEAMER TO SAIL

Unless unforeseen developments occur, British Columbian immigrapassengers early tomorrow morning.

The latest arrangement calls for the departure of the ship at 5 o'clock.
After three months of almost constant turmoil, the Hindus, whose deportagovernment on the ground that they were undesirable subjects, have accepted the situation.

A flurry of excitement was caused here tonight by a report that the Hin-

Fresh Beef from Abroad in

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—

Great increases in the importation of fresh beef and other meat products since the Underwood tariff revision, with its free list, went into effect, are reported by the Department of Agriculture. During June 48,- 645,022 pounds of such products were imported, 37,308,946 pounds of which were fresh beef, principally of Australian under the meat inspection.

There were 6,724,107 head of cattle slaughtered, a decrease

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—Investigation of an alleged conspiracy among dealers and exporters of wheat at Kansas City, Mo., to depress prices to farmers was provided in a resolution by Representative Doolittle of Kansas, favorably reported today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce assured Mr. Doolittle he will at once send two inspectors to Kansas to investigate and report.

Mr. Doolittle told the house that for the last addition to the Kansas wheat producers were getting 62 cents at leading elevators in Kansas, while the same quality of wheat for export at Kansas City, Mo., as high as 85 cents.

tion of an alleged conspiracy among

GRAVE ASPECT BELOW BORDER.

Factions in Mexico Threaten Peace Negotiations.

Carranza and Villa Now at Parting of the Ways.

Reparation Asked by Powers for Recent Outrages.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—Peace in Mexico is far from assured and complications both internal and international are rapidly entangling the situation, administration officials, diplomats and Mexicans of both factions here believe.

The United States government is exerting every diplomatic influence toward harmonizing discordant elements, but certain aspects are admittedly grave. Official reports reveal that the most threatening factor is the aloofness of Gen. Villa from the authority of Gen. Carranza. Another vexing point is that Gen. Carranza, according to his agents here, is disinclined to grant an amnesty to political offenders and will insist on an unconditional surrender by the Carranza government.

Unless Carranza is willing to give assurances that there will be no wholesale arrests, executions and confiscations of property when the Constitutionalists enter Mexico City, provisional President Carranza will rally all the military elements at his disposal and resist to the end the Constitutional advance.

The diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Chile and Brazil, who mediated in the international dispute between the United States and Mexico have indicated through Secretary Bryan their belief that a peaceful transfer of authority could be accomplished with little difficulty if an amnesty were granted and proper guarantees given. The United States government realizes this is working hard to obtain these terms, but as yet without assurance of success.

FOREIGN COMPLICATIONS.

Foreign complications are looming up as between Mexico and England, France and Spain, and European creditors generally who had financial relations with the Huerta government. England is preparing to ask for satisfaction for the killing of William B. Benton.

France is making vigorous protest over the killing of the French citizens at Zacatecas.

The Spanish government is anxious that the Spaniards driven from Torreon and other points be reimbursed for their losses.

The grievances of these countries are lodged against Gen. Villa, particularly, and Gen. Carranza's estrangement from Villa has made it difficult for the first time to attempt to settle them satisfactorily.

The Washington government has made an earnest appeal to both Gen. Carranza and Gen. Villa to forget their personal differences and work in harmony for the restoration of peace. No indication of Villa's attitude since receiving the appeal has come, but reliable advice to the Washington government is that Villa has been concentrating his troops preparatory to making vigorous demands upon Carranza.

The Washington administration will insist that an amnesty be granted as the most logical step toward peace. Recognition will be withheld until a peaceful transfer of authority is arranged between the Constitutionalists and the Carranza government.

CASTELLON IS CONFIDENT.

Jose Castellon, personal representative of provisional President Francisco Carranza here, said he was confident that commissioners sent by Carranza to treat with Carranza would reach a satisfactory agreement.

He is relying chiefly on the influence of the American government to prevent further fighting and bring about an amnesty. As soon as the proposed conferences are begun it is understood Carranza will declare an armistice.

It is understood Carranza will declare an armistice. By unconditional surrender, Secretary Bryan thinks Carranza means that no political conditions shall be imposed by the Carranza government. Both Jose Castellon and Emilio Rabasa, head of the delegation which represented Huerta at the Niagara Falls mediation, declared today that Carranza's government wanted no political share in the new administration.

RABASA'S VIEWS.

"The only thing," said Mr. Rabasa, "which the Carranza government desires, is that amnesty for political offenders be granted and that protection be given to the property of all. The government is prepared willing to transfer the power entirely to Gen. Carranza or whoever the Constitutionalists may designate. We want no legislation of any acts of Huerta or any other terms. It seems to me that what we are asking is a simple consideration based on principles of morality and civilization."

"If an amnesty is not granted, naturally the people who support the Carranza government will resist to the utmost any advance of the Constitutionalists. It would be a defense against death and I am sure the Carranza government can rally enough elements to withstand the Constitutionalists if it comes to such a situation. But I don't think it wise for I believe the American government will use its influence to prevent such a state of anarchy as might result from further fighting."

"But even if the Carranza government does submit and no amnesty is granted, the Constitutionalists cannot then be certain of a stable government. Rather than take a chance on being executed, many of the generals who supported Huerta with Carranza already has done, go to the mountains and begin a counter revolution. I am confident, however, that the situation will solve itself when all these phases are taken into consideration by the Constitutionalists."

Mr. Rabasa had a long talk with the South American mediators and called on the Spanish Ambassador before leaving for New York late today.

The three mediators paid a formal call on President Wilson, and, together with Secretary Bryan, discussed the success of the Niagara Falls mediation. It was the first time Ambassador Gama of Brazil had been in Washington since the conference at Niagara Falls began. The President thanked the three diplomats for their efforts.

CARROTHERS TO SEE VILLA.

EL PASO (Tex.) July 27.—George C. Carothers, special representative of the State Department, will leave tomorrow morning for Chihuahua City to confer with Gen. Villa regarding the fear of official Washington that the Carranza-Villa estrangement again will break out. It was learned today that Villa recently has reiterated that his difficulty with the commander-in-chief, which was patched up at the Torreon conference, would not affect his action in any degree.

An order was issued today by Villa for all officers of his division to report at once to their posts. The official version of the order was that it was preparatory to a movement against Villa's forces to participate in the union of all revolutionary troops before moving on Mexico City. Villa's departure today for a week's tour to his old home in the mountains of Western Chihuahua did not indicate that he would move soon for the south.

Officials of all parties expressed the belief that the trouble between the two leaders and the factions they represented would not break out at least until after occupation of the national capital. They expressed doubt, however, over the results of the attempted reconstruction of the nation's business affairs after the last four years of almost continual warfare.

Officials at Juarez today received a report that a band of Federales under Gen. Roque Gomez had crossed the international line and was camped at Dog Springs, N. M., thirty miles from Columbus, N. M.

PUERTO MEXICO, July 27.—Nearly one hundred men, women and children of the most prominent families of Mexico are herded together like cattle on the forepeak of the British cruiser Bristol while the official ship continues to occupy comfortable quarters. Even the privilege of a bath is denied the Mexicans. The American officers here are indignant. They have wired Washington, urging the United States to proffer a cruiser to take the party to the United States. Gen. Fernandez Gil says the party will stick together, and if returned ashore among the hostile nations in these parts will fight together.

EL PASO (Tex.) July 27.—Announcement of Gen. Villa's delay in proceeding south from Chihuahua City greatly puzzled officials here today. The first time he intended that he would leave today for Aguas Calientes with three of his brigades to participate in the junction of Constitutional troops north of the national capital.

Mexican officials on the border admit ignorance of the plans of the general at the north. They do not know definitely that Villa had been invited to take part in the entry into Mexico City. Carranza is in the mountains of Western Chihuahua, where Villa operated as a bandit before the Mader revolution.

Forty of the women were arrested by police and taken to the town of Cananea by Gen. Venustiano Carranza to settle the strike.

CAILLAUX SCORES TRIUMPH AT WIFE'S MURDER TRIAL.

Compels Government to Admit Letters Which It Is Declared Would Have Crushed Him Did Not Exist. Crowd Cheers Former Premier When He Emerges from Courtroom to the Street.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, July 27.—Joseph Caillaux, former Premier, was again today the central figure in the proceedings in the Court of the Assize, where his wife, Mme. Henriette Caillaux, is on trial for the killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro. The courtroom was crowded to its utmost capacity in the expectation of sensational revelations arising from M. Labori's closing statement last night, when he declared he would refuse to plead unless a full statement of the circumstances which it was alleged were important enough to crush Caillaux.

On the opening of court this morning the procurator-general said he was authorized by the government to declare the documents referred to in yesterday's testimony did not exist. Instead, therefore, of the statement of the ex-Premier, the incident ended in his triumph, as his brilliant antagonist, M. Labori, was obliged to acknowledge.

When the procurator-general resumed his seat, M. Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux, said:

"We consider the incident closed."

M. Chenu replied sarcastically: "The incident is closed to the satisfaction of M. Caillaux, but to my mind it was nothing but a clever diversion, most opportunely arranged, and I admire the skill with which it was arranged. It has pleased M. Caillaux to transform a criminal trial into the trial of a political cause. Nonetheless, as the result of circumstances which escape my comprehension, we reach the point of the trial of the assassin of a man of letters. The Radical leader, from his seat in the gallery, declared that he was in the case with the closest attention. Occasionally he would look tenderly in the direction of his wife, with an encouraging smile or gesture. Not a word uttered by the witnesses escaped him as he leaned forward, his hand cupped around his ear, the better to hear."

Twice during the session today there were exciting scenes. Once, when M. Chenu declared it did not become M. Caillaux to endeavor to soil the grave which his wife had made, the ex-Premier sprang forward and exclaimed:

"Since I must take notice of what this lawyer has said, I will ask him if he will take personal responsibility for his words."

When the uproar which this utterance occasioned had subsided, M. Chenu replied:

"I take the entire responsibility. You can not menace me here."

M. Caillaux did not interpose further in the proceedings. Auguste Avril, political editor of the Figaro, in his deposition, declared that early in November, 1914, M. Caillaux had stopped him in the lobby of the chamber and asked how much longer Calmette was going to continue his campaign against the government. He answered and M. Caillaux then said to him:

"You know I am a crack shot. I go every day to the shooting gallery and get a bull's eye every time."

The ex-Premier leaped to his feet and demanded to be confronted with the man who had said that. M. Caillaux affirmed that he had no recollection of ever saying such a thing. He was determined to have the determination of the exactitude of his testimony.

As M. Caillaux left the court at the close of the hearing many hands were outstretched to him. Some were those of acquaintances and others of total strangers. He seemed to be deeply touched by these manifestations of sympathy and exclaimed in a voice shaken with real emotion: "I see I still have some friends left."

A crowd gathered outside the main gate of the Palais de Justice to see M. Caillaux depart. They gave him a rousing cheer, mingled with whistles and shouts of approval. M. Caillaux, accompanied by Deputy Pascal Ceccaldi, went to the Conciergerie and spent an hour with his wife, who was on the opposite side of the palace, close to the statue of Henry IV, on the Pont Neuf, a small crowd waiting in the lobby to see the Premier. He began to discuss the case and soon came to blows. Police dispersed them.

MORTIER'S TESTIMONY.
Pierre Mortier, editor of Gil Blas, corroborated previous evidence as to the overwrought nerves of Mme. Caillaux and to her knowing that the Figaro was about to publish the revelations. He was followed by three other journalists, M. Du Barry, editor of Journales Republicaines, Albert Leger, of the Echo de Paris, and Robert Le Court, editor of the Courrier du Parlement, who declared that they had been informed by the Figaro intended to publish other letters after the "Thy Joe" letter, but when pressed by the presiding judge and M. Chenu for the names of their informants, they sheltered themselves behind the plea of "professional secrecy."

Witnesses followed each other in rapid succession. The distinguished scientist, Paul Painleve, declared he had been told by the banker, Gaston Dreyfus, that the Figaro intended to publish a number of private letters. Leon Bailly, editor of Intransigence, related how M. Caillaux made the Figaro report on the Rochette affair at a dinner of a few friends, saying as he replaced it in his pocketbook:

"I always keep it on me; one never knows what may happen."

STANDS BY MME. CAILLAUX.
Mme. Madeleine Guillemaud, a lifelong friend of Mme. Caillaux, saw her on the night before the tragedy, said quite calmly. In my opinion, "She was quite calm. In my opinion, she never intended to kill."

Mme. Caillaux interposed during the deposition and said that Mme. Guillemaud was the only person to whom she had shown the two letters and Mme. Guillemaud would bear her out that she was perfectly sane in tone and the letters of a well-bred man.

"That I swear to," answered the witness, raising her hand. She was one of the last witnesses was Adel Bonnard of the staff of the Figaro, who produced a letter in which M.

Calmette asked him to express deep regret to Mme. Gueydan (M. Caillaux's first wife) that he had been forced to use her letter.

SALES CLERK TESTIFIES.
Georges Fromentin, a sales clerk in the gun store where Mme. Caillaux purchased the weapon with which she killed Calmette, was called. He took an automatic pistol from the package in front of the judges and explained its action. Maitre Chenu said:

"Mme. Caillaux did not say when she loaded the pistol."

Mme. Caillaux: "As soon as I got into the motor car, before I could forget the conference."

Mme. Caillaux added:

"I have never fired a pistol, but I had hunted with my husband. I bought a gun at the same place."

Another gunsmith's employee said Mme. Caillaux had practiced in the range under the store. Three of her six shots struck a target the size of a human figure.

Mme. Caillaux: "I tried the pistol at the request of the employee. I wanted me to be sure I knew how it worked."

Yves Delbos, editor-in-chief of Le Radical, related that he had met Mme. Caillaux on the day of the shooting. He said: "She seemed depressed and sad and was like a beaten, hunted thing."

Mme. Louise de Mesange-Estrades, former society editor of the Figaro, amid profound silence, testified she had dined in company with Mme. Caillaux about two months before the shooting.

She continued:

"Mme. Caillaux said Mme. Gueydan, the former wife of M. Caillaux, was going from one newspaper office to another hawking letters against her. I tried to reassure her by saying that my information was that Mme. Gueydan had refused to sell the letters to Calmette for $6000. I know nothing of the 'Thy Joe' letter."

"Will you not give more precise testimony about Mme. Gueydan's letters?" interrupted Mme. Caillaux.

The witness did not reply and a moment later left the stand.

ARTIST'S WIFE ON STAND.
Mme. Blythe Chartran, the wife of an artist, said Mme. Caillaux had been going from her home to her husband's for a long time. She said she feared her letters were about to be published.

Idore de Lara, a musical composer, testified to having taken lunch with the Princess of Monaco on the day the "Thy Joe" letter was published. Mme. Caillaux and Mme. de Mesange-Estrades also were there. The witness did not reply and a moment later left the stand.

They will end in killing my husband."

Eugene Morand, a writer, who also was at the luncheon, swore that Mme. Mesange-Estrades had spoken a great deal at the table about the "Thy Joe" letter. He continued: "I thought she talked too much. Mme. Caillaux seemed greatly distressed. Not a word was said about the letter. The witness spoke of the gentleness and sweetness of Mme. Caillaux's disposition."

Contrasts.

least transferred it from the King to the Premier himself.

Active negotiations are proceeding outside Buckingham Palace between the party leaders. Premier Asquith had an interview tonight with the Lord Lansdowne, secretary of State, the opposition leaders, between two separate sittings of the Cabinet. All kinds of rumors are current, one that Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, representing the minority in the Cabinet, favoring the clean-cut exclusion of Ulster, had threatened to resign; another that the King will make another dramatic move at the conference, and that a speedy general election has become inevitable.

John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, received tonight resolutions adopted at a conference at Omagh of Nationalist delegates from the counties of Kerry, Tyrone and Fermanagh, affirming unabated confidence in the Irish leader, and declaring that, at the risk of their lives, Ulster-Nationalists would stand by him to be separated from the Irish nation.

The Premier said in addressing the House:

"The speech was sent to me in the ordinary way by His Majesty, the King, and it was delivered to me by the King's messenger. I have taken the entire responsibility for it. The King left it to the discretion of the conference as to whether or not his speech should be published, and the conference decided unanimously in favor of its publication."

"His Majesty, throughout this matter, has followed the strictest constitutional practice, and has taken no step from the beginning until now except in consultation with and on the advice of his ministers."

Premier Asquith being questioned as to the calling of the conference, said with emphasis that all attending did so unconditionally, and refused to discuss why it was held in Buckingham Palace instead of the House of Commons.

When asked whether there would be an opportunity for discussion of the subject in the House, Premier Asquith retorted:

"Time will show."

HIBERNIANS ON ULSTER CRISIS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NORFOLK (Va.) July 27.—In his annual address before the biennial convention of the Hibernian Society of America today, President James J. Regan reviewed the political situation in Ireland, and declared that the Hibernians have been waging a bitter campaign against home rule. He said, "I am proud to say that the Hibernians are everywhere possible religious and political prejudices are being overcome. The military branch of the order submitted a report recommending the raising of funds for the 'cause' in Ireland."

ARMS SHIPMENTS AGAIN STOPPED.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

DESPITE PRECAUTIONS VILLA LANDED EIGHT MILLION CARTRIDGES.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Extraordinary precautions against smuggling of arms and ammunition across the Mexican border were ordered today by the Treasury Department. With an open break in the coast guard's ranks threatening the American government is determined to prevent the accumulation in northern territory of a supply of war munitions which might be used in a counter-revolution.

Collectors of customs along the border wear directed by today's order to exercise increased vigilance; to have every car and vehicle crossing the border searched and to give particular attention to tank cars. If these precautions prove unavailing, it is understood the government may resort to a formal embargo proclamation similar to the one issued by President Taft against the sale of arms and munitions after the revolution of 1911.

A few days after the occupation of Vera Cruz, when Gen. Carranza assumed power, rather than the army and treasury orders against the exportation of arms were issued. It is an open secret, however, that within the past few months enormous quantities of munitions have been shipped into Mexico.

It is known that the purpose of Gen. Villa's last trip to Juarez was to facilitate the purchase of arms and ammunition from the United States, and it is understood that he has succeeded in landing something over 8,000,000 cartridges across the line.

A special resolution presented by Judge John H. Clark of Cleveland, commending the efforts of former President Taft and President Wilson to attain the settlement of international differences by arbitration, was adopted.

The resolutions Committee reported no resolutions, but the chairman, Thomas O'Brien of Grand Rapids, former United States Ambassador to Japan, read a report epitomizing the work of the Centenary Committee.

A feature of the celebration will be a banquet at Ghent, Belgium, on January 6 of next year, at which there will be the same menu, the same toasts, as at the banquet 100 years before, with which the signing of the treaty of Ghent, diplomatically terminating the War of 1812, was celebrated. The British celebration will begin next Christmas Eve.

The first formal observance in the United States will be on February 14, 1915.

FOR OIL OPERATORS' RELIEF.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

Committee to Ask Daniels to Withdraw Amendment to Bill Which Blocked Its Passage Monday.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, July 27.—Although consideration of the bill for the temporary relief of the oil operators was blocked by objection last Monday, the California have not lost hopes of getting it through. It being understood that but for the amendment made to it at the request of the Secretary of the Navy, placing the proceeds from oil drawn from naval reserves in a fund to be used for purchasing naval fuel, the bill could have been passed, a special committee will visit Secretary Daniels tomorrow morning by appointment and consult with him about the effects of the amendment. It is understood that he will consent, especially in view of the promise that the bill for permanent relief is to be pushed through as soon as possible.

The committee consists of Representatives Graham, Raker, Lenroot, French and Church.

GROWS TOO FAST FOR CENSUS MAN.

HE GIVES AS LOS ANGELES' PRESENT POPULATION LAST YEAR'S FIGURES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—There were 109,021,992 persons living within the territory embraced by the United States on July 1, 1914, according to a bulletin containing the estimates of population for the years subsequent to the thirteenth census, made in 1910, prepared under the supervision of C. S. Sloan, geographer of the Department of Commerce, and just issued.

The population of the United States in 1910 was 101,748,269, so there has been a gain in population estimated at more than 7,000,000 in the last four years.

One of the most remarkable examples of steady and rapid growth is that of Los Angeles, which in the last census was given a population of 319,109, and according to the semi-official figures just issued, now has 438,514, a gain of 119,405 in four years.

SECURITIES BILL NOW COMPLETED

Trade Commission Measure Pushed in Senate.

Minimum Price for Stocks to Be Fixed by Board.

Borah Declares the Sherman Law Is Adequate.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—Upon insistence by Senator Borah, the Senate today resumed consideration of the Interstate Trade Commission bill, first of the administration anti-trust legislative measures.

Earlier in the day the revised Clayton bill to supplement the Sherman act was reported from the Judiciary Committee, but the Interstate Commerce Committee, after an all-day session, still was not quite ready with a perfected measure to regulate the issuance of securities by common carriers.

The securities bill was practically completed to the satisfaction of a majority and a new print of the revised text was made public, after the committee had yielded to Louis D. Brandeis, one of its advisers, and incorporated a section which would make it unlawful for a common carrier to acquire any interest in the stock of a corporation.

Mr. Brandeis and George Rublee of New York, both of whom have worked with the committee for some weeks, objected strenuously to the scope of the bill, which would give the Interstate Commerce Commission in the Newlands bill, and they plan to make an appeal to President Wilson tomorrow. The experts object to the terms of the bill which they maintain would amount to a Federal guarantee of railroad securities, and abolish all authority of State Railroad Commissions over stock issues.

As agreed upon tentatively and to be reviewed by the Interstate Commerce Committee tomorrow, the Newlands bill would give the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to approve or disapprove of the issuance of securities by carriers for "construction, extension, enlargement, betterment, maintenance or equipment of its railroad or facilities," etc., or for the "lawful acquisition of the property of, or in connection with, the railroad or facilities," etc., or for the "lawful acquisition of the property of, or in connection with, the railroad or facilities," etc.

Nothing had been heard tonight from Senator O'Gorman of New York, nor from Senator Paul M. Warburg, another nominee for the board, relative to the latter's appearance before the committee.

DEMOCRATIC HURRY, IT'S A PROMISE.

WILSON SENATORS DECIDE, BY JINGO, THEY WILL RUSH THINGS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, July 27.—Senate Democrats in caucus tonight agreed upon a definite legislative programme, in which they expect to put through the anti-trust and appropriation bills and adjournment of Congress at the earliest possible moment.

Nearly every majority Senator in Washington attended, and while no predictions as to adjournment were made, "hurry" was the keynote of the meeting.

It was said that pending Interstate Trade Commission Bill should be continued as the unfinished business and kept constantly before the Senate until disposed of, except when it becomes necessary to sidetrack it temporarily.

The new programme will be put in effect Friday, with daily sessions from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. To avoid the possibility of a tie in the Senate, the legislative schedule, the Senate will recess each day until the next instead of adjournment.

San Pedro Folk Demand Care for Harbor Cemetery.

Longshoremen Refused Help of Northern Unions.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, July 27.—After watching a ground squirrel come out of a hole at the head of a grave with the tiny hand of a child in its mouth, George B. Cooke, local health inspector, has appealed to the San Pedro Social and Civic Center for better care of Harbor View Cemetery.

In a letter Cooke says he was called to the cemetery to make an inspection and found deplorable conditions. Tombstones had tumbled down and the cemetery was overgrown with weeds and brush.

The cemetery belongs to the city, being one of the things acquired by the harbor through the consolidation of San Pedro and Los Angeles.

Previous efforts to get the cemetery improved have failed, although the work has been recommended by the City Council.

TO BUILD A RACING YACHT.

Project Broached at Banquet Last Night.

Commodore Mitchell's Dinner for Capt. Barneson.

An Elaborate and Beautiful Affair.

Los Angeles yachtsmen should form a syndicate and construct, at a cost of about $12,000, a twelve-metre yacht to contest at San Francisco next April for the Sir Thomas Lipton cup.

That was the idea brought out last night at a banquet given at the Jonathan Club by Commodore A. J. Mitchell in honor of Capt. John Barneson, at which there were in attendance those who participated in the race between the Yankee Girl and the Beria from Long Beach to Coronado on July 3, last.

The race, it will be remembered, was won by Capt. Barneson's Beria from Commodore Mitchell's Yankee Girl, hence the banquet in honor of the captain.

Capt. Barneson gave it as his idea that whereas Seattle, Victoria, San Francisco and other coast cities were to have yachts in the race next April, it stood to reason that Los Angeles should not only build a craft, but enter the race.

He stated that ideal yachting conditions are to be found along the south coast, near Los Angeles, and that yachting attracts the class of people who have been the builders of Southern California.

Gen. M. H. Sherman, M. F. Ihmsen and others made speeches enthusiastically supporting Capt. Barneson's idea. William Llewellyn offered to donate the keel of the yacht.

The following committee was appointed to arrange the preliminaries toward getting together on the building of a boat to represent Los Angeles: Gen. Sherman, M. F. Ihmsen, J. W. Parsons, W. Llewellyn, Frank A. Garbutt, Commodore A. J. Mitchell, the South Coast Yacht Club, the Los Angeles Motor Boat Club, William Manning and Frank Hudson.

The decks then were washed down, anchor weighed, all sails set and the trim, good Polaris sailed forth on a sea of joy. W. R. Kennedy and A. J. Leavitt reefed the spinnaker, while J. E. Currie, second mate, attended to the jibs. The others grouped about the main mast and did a binnacle. From the starting gun to the fall and the race it was a worthy event.

The full crew was composed of W. Duran, A. J. Leavitt, P. Hudson, C. Duran, W. R. Kennedy, W. Llewellyn, C. M. O'Leary, W. F. West, Robert Mitchell, R. S. Maynard, P. Chappell, Carl Leonard, M. F. Ihmsen, Capt. John Barneson, Commodore A. J. Mitchell, Gen. M. H. Sherman, Harry Chandler, Frank A. Garbutt, W. W. Parsons, J. E. Currie, P. H. Updike and C. F. Freeland.

RACE MEETING WILL BE CLOSED.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL EXPECTS TO STOP THE RANG-TAILS UP AT VANDUVER.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WEBB.)
VANDUVER (N. C.) July 22.—W. J. Bowser, Attorney-General, arrived from Victoria today and announced that he would immediately cause to be initiated a prosecution against the Minor Park race track, with a view to closing the race meeting at Lulu Island. The pari-mutuel system of betting was carried on at Minoru. The government contends that the pari-mutuel system is a form of gambling.

TWO MORE NORTHERN NET STARS ENTER TOURNAMENT

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

TWO more San Francisco tennis players unexpectedly sent in their entries for the Southern California tennis championships, which are to be held at the Hotel Virginia next week.

Bowie Dedrick and William Marcus, two of the northern colony, who were born with tennis rackets in their hands, are the two gentlemen in question, and their entrance into the ranks of the tournament players will add considerable speculation to the event.

Dedrick is a youthful phenom, who captured the Pacific Coast junior singles championship last year, and this year is just slightly over the junior age limit.

Marcus is a player of whom little is known but certain parties conversant with tennis doings around the bay assert that he is somewhat better than Dedrick, all of which remains to be demonstrated next week.

In addition to the northern invaders in the open singles and other events devoted more or less exclusively to the sterner sex, considerable spice has been added to the women's singles by the announcement that a couple of the sensational women players from Coronado will compete.

Of course, Florence Sutton will be there to play through, and Mrs. Bruce will also be on the job to defend her title against the winner of the tournament.

There are half a dozen men's doubles teams which promise to make things hot. Simpson Hunsbarger and Allan Duncan have formed a conspiracy to capture the doubles title and look like a perfectly good bet if all goes well.

CROSS IS IN GREAT SHAPE; JOHNNY TILLMAN ISN'T.

Van Court Apparently Suspects That the Coming Fight Is Liable to Be Another Bloomer—Interesting Cards Are Offered at Some of the Minor Clubs—Patsy Riley's Great Condition.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

EACH CROSS worked out at Jack Doyle's training quarters yesterday afternoon, and the New York boxer appeared better in his early training than he did yesterday.

His skin is clear, he is full of ginger and he worked like he had been training for a week, and a week's time is a long time for him to get into condition.

He did his usual training stunts, then boxed several rounds with Danny Cullen and Patsy Riley. He showed plenty of speed, hitting powers and was all to the good in every way. He has another week to prepare for his match with Johnny Tillman and if he keeps up the gain he started today, will be at his best, barring accidents, by next Tuesday night.

Leach is very confident of winning, and his manager, Sam Walach, figures that his brother, Leach, has had too much experience for Tillman.

One evening Pink sheet advertised that Manager Tyrrell would give $5 a day to any local preliminary boy who wanted the job as a sparring partner for Tillman.

Mike Doll, the well-known preliminary, made an application for the position, but was politely told that Johnny had all the sparring partners he needed, and they are Al Sherman and George Moss.

Is it possible that we are to have another bloomer headed up? I sincerely hope not.

Looks Good from Here.

GOLFERS WANT TO LIMIT AMATEURS.

CLUBS WOULD PROFESSIONALIZE THOSE WHO WRITE ARTICLES FOR REMUNERATION.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WEBB.)

NEW YORK, July 22.—From figures made public today by Robert C. Watson, president of the United States Golf Association, the early returns in the poll of the 388 golf clubs affiliated with the association to ascertain the sentiment regarding a more strict definition of an amateur, show a preference for a change. Of the forty-five clubs reporting to President Watson, twenty-eight favored the proposed restrictions to correct certain alleged abuses of the present amateur rules.

The proposed changes in the rules would bar amateur players from accepting remuneration for laying out golf courses, for writing articles for newspapers explaining how to play certain shots, and prohibit them from accepting free board and traveling expenses to take part in matches arranged for advertising purposes, or from accepting and using for advertising purposes certain makes of golf clubs and balls and other golf articles.

MANAGER IS AGAIN ON JOB HERE.

Christian Is the Only Surviving Bona Fide Manager—Hogan Merely in Game Through Force of Circumstances—In the Old Days All of Them Double-Header Today.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Among extinct species, the manager has been exceedingly rare in the Coast League.

Christian, although it is not his contract calls for it, goes in and pitches every day. It is believed, however, he will outgrow this habit.

As soon as his manager, Hogan, was removed from the non-playing position, he believed in letting Christian do the work.

When Hogan was removed from the non-playing position, he believed in letting Christian do the work.

HOUSE IS FIRED AS THREE SLEEP.

FIENDISH ATTEMPT TO CREMATE OCCUPANTS; TWO FIRE CANS FOUND.

Two cans containing the dregs of a mysterious self-lighting chemical are in the hands of the police as evidence of a fiendish attempt to burn the residence at No. 1629 North street, occupied by Mrs. Lizzie M. Ragan, a widow; her mother, Mrs. D. Sheely, 70, and son, Richard, 15, early yesterday morning.

Awakened by the noxious fumes of the chemical, Mrs. Ragan rushed from her bed and found the dining-room in flames. Extinguishing them, she saw more smoke coming up the cellar way and discovered that the basement was in flames. She roused her mother and son and then telephoned the fire department.

The cans are in the possession of detectives and will be given to the city chemist for examination. The chemical apparently had a phosphorus base. It had been sprinkled in the rooms of the Ragan house. The detectives say the case is a clear one of incendiaryism. Mrs. Ragan is at a loss to name any enemy, the officers say.

—and the Worst Is Yet to Come

NEAR RIOT IN FEDERAL COURT.

ATTORNEYS WOULD IMITATE LASSEN PEAK.

Rumors Stir Over Question of Professional Honor and Ethics. When Lawyer Levels Finger at Judge Court Holders, Don't Point Your Finger at Me.

It was expected that the government would close its case in the hearing of the American Brokerage Company case, in the United States District Court, yesterday, but the militant spirits of the attorneys postponed the end of the story from the government standpoint, until today.

Yesterday an incident riot was narrowly averted by Judge Wellborn and the fact that Mr. Horton of the defense denied any attempt on his part to reflect on Asst. Dist. Atty. Stone.

The rumormongers occurred over the introduction of certain letters sent to the witness, D. C. Willett, that the defense claimed had not been identified. There was a question of ethics and professional honor involved, as both the court and Mr. Stone said they thought the letters came under the stipulation entered into by both parties earlier in the case.

Some of the remarks made by Mr. Horton evidently did not set well on the court, for when that gentleman arose to speak he pointed his finger at the court. "Don't point your finger at me," warned Judge Wellborn. Mr. Horton apologized.

Then Mr. Stone said he was tired of having opposing counsel saying that he had to "watch the District Attorney." He (Stone) had tried to do his duty, and needed no watching, a fact that Mr. Horton well knew. He thought it time to call a halt on that sort of talk.

Judge Wellborn said the statement of Mr. Horton was entirely uncalled for, and the latter denied the imputation that might be gathered from his statement. Then silence came like a poultice to heal the blow of sound. Everybody was glad but the jury, which seemed to enjoy the daylight fireworks.

D. C. Willett, a farmer of Morganfield, Ky., who had two contracts with the American Brokerage Company for the delivery of 10,000 shares of Black Butte mining stock and 1000 shares of the Yellow Tiger, both of which he paid up in full, at a cost of about $450, who testified yesterday, had a unique record in his dealings with the concern. Willett not only paid on his Black Butte stock, for five months following the indictment of the accused, but he made one monthly payment of $6.30 after he had been informed of their indictment. He became suspicious of the American Brokerage Company even before the government, and began a quiet investigation on his own account that afterward ended in the arrest of the defendants.

UNDEVELOPED TELEGRAMS.

A. Kerr, W. Meshkovich, Leslie Moore, W. D. Morgan, G. I. Melton, L. J. Porter, Mrs. Evelyn Roach, H. Studnicka, M. Sevo, Lucille Soberanes, Mrs. W. O. Woodbury, M. H. Warren and Francisco R. HIS DEBTS COVERED.

A. W. McCraw, a merchant of Glendora, filed a petition in bankruptcy yesterday. His debts amount to $1582.99, and his assets to $9088.17, of which $4000 is the alleged value of his stock in trade.

IMPOSSIBLE.
 Armed intervention in Haiti is discussed by administration officials. They would better not let President Wilson and Secretary Bryan catch them at it. Such cruelty as war talk is not to be tolerated at Washington. If Haiti is not happy let Mr. Bryan give them $25,000,000 and wait for the smile.

THE ETERNAL QUESTION.
 Gentle reader, you do not have to consider the illness of the field. Instead you may contemplate the photographs in the newspapers with open eyes, then close your eyes and imagine $50,000 and take your choice. It is much nicer to do this with and by the peace of your own metaphorical friends. Truly mental arithmetic is a great study.

SUMMER FRIENDS.
 Everybody laughs about the summer girl and seaside flirtations, yet surely all of us make delightful acquaintances at every beach vacation and some of these ripen into close friendships prolonged through many years. People are wonderfully kind. One needs only a chance to really get acquainted with them in order to like them.

INTANGIBLE.
 Supt. Francis of the public schools might have come off with flying colors only there was nothing to come from. There wasn't any rind and there wasn't any reason. There wasn't any core because there wasn't any apple. There was just a lot of noise of the Joe Scott brand. The summer musing ordinance should be more strictly enforced.

THE COLOR SCHEME.
 We didn't make the stars and you did not, but all of us have a right to our opinion about them. Some of them are blue and some are gold. Some are white and a very few are red. From the helicopter, the violets and the passion flowers scattered over the surface of this one we have sometimes thought that perhaps to the others the earth must be one royal purple orb in the whole system.

THE PATH OF THE SEA.
 It is still a beaten path, even if one end of it is slightly torn up through rivalry of transportation factions. If the price is to come down, the people will not mind and the companies will probably take care of themselves. One always regrets a starving corporation. At the same time, if there is a chance to get to the beach on Sunday for 40 cents instead of 50, the city will not exactly be reduced to tears.

THE FOREIGN FASHION.
 An American who might claim a title says he will not because he is not sure of getting the estate and he could not support one without the other. He talks like a foreigner except that the nobility abroad are very glad to accept foreign titles so that they can use them to marry American estates. It is easy enough for the man who cannot support his title to find a wife who can and who will.

OFFICIAL ZEAL.
 A special deputy sheriff has been arrested on a charge that eagerness to convict a youth of a criminal offense led the officer to perjure himself. An officer's usefulness when he begins to regard himself as a public avenger. It happens just as often that officers of the peace do as much to clear the innocent as to convict the criminal. Considering the large number of officers employed and the cunning and vicious tactics of criminals there is remarkably little persecution in prosecution.

TOOPIOUS WITH A FIGSEYE.
 A medical scientist has discovered that lost sight may be recovered and defective sight restored by grafting a pig's optic upon the diseased human organ. It is not stated whether in such cases it is necessary to cultivate a sty on the eye. In many instances great benefits have resulted from pig's eye substitution while in others the result has been deleterious. The subject of the change has regarded with complacency what before he viewed with alarm. Graft a pig's eye on Tooptious and maybe he will look upon the dwindled Progressive and enlarged Republican registration with more kindly vision, and not go foaming at the mouth and speaking cuss words up and down the street, and instituting libel suits against those who mildly call attention to the many different kinds of an ass he can be when opportunity is offered.

RESULT OF FREE CATTLE.
 The placing of beef and cattle on the free list instead of decreasing the cost of living has enhanced it. The Canadians, and Australians, and Argentines, instead of increasing their beef exports, have simply enhanced their prices to the extent of the duty formerly collected. The result is, as in the case of wool, the United States Treasury loses millions of dollars, which foreign producers gain, while American producers, in apprehension of the reduced prices which free cattle and meat were expected to produce, have reduced their herds. To this is added the high price of corn, which adds to the cost of fattening cattle. There can be no immediate relief from these conditions. It will take a year to restore the number of cattle which Mr. Wilson's tariff diminished and more than a year to cause people generally to resort to a vegetarian diet.

LET GOV. JOHNSON ANSWER.
 With John Eshleman, Progressive candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, trying to sneak into office by trickily getting himself nominated on the Democratic and the Republican tickets, and with Gov. Johnson, Progressive candidate for Governor, publicly scoring to resort to any such means, the observing citizens of California are wondering at the play being made by these two self-adulating gentlemen.

Gov. Johnson picked Eshleman to be his running mate. He picked him without regard for the primary law; just said, "Let it be so," and it was so; chose him from among numerous intrusive applicants because Eshleman was thought to be an amiable, harmless sort of man somewhat skillful in advertising himself—and advertising counts in the innermost councils of the Progressives.

But when Eshleman saw the handwriting on the books of the registrars and read that the Republicans were leading two to one, and that the Democrats were leading the Progressives, he started petitions—made possible by a foolish and complicated primary law, thanks to Gov. Johnson—to have himself declared the Republican and Democratic candidate also.

Does Gov. Johnson approve of this trickery? That is what Hamilton A. Bauer, a Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, wants to know. He has addressed an open letter to Gov. Johnson inviting that conspicuous dodger of issues to answer. Mr. Bauer says:

Mr. Eshleman is registered as a Progressive, the party you and he founded in the State of California. He left the Republican party with you. He is your running mate as the candidate of the Progressive party for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. It would be impossible for him to campaign with the candidate of the Republican party on a platform directed against the Progressive party. Neither could he consistently campaign on the Progressive party stump against the Republican party.

I, therefore, ask you as the leader of the Progressive party of the State of California, as the former candidate of the Progressive party for the office of Vice-President of the United States, as the candidate of the Progressive party for the office of Governor of the State of California, if, man to man, you endorse the actions of Mr. Eshleman.

Let Gov. Johnson answer. We, together with several hundreds of thousands of citizens in the State, are interested in knowing if he has the courage to say where he stands on this question. He will tell us how he loves the women and how strong he is for suffrage; he will tell us how he hates the Southern Pacific; he will boast of all the things he wants us to think he has done; but when it comes to a real, vital, man-to-man question, Gov. Hiram Johnson can dodge the issue with the ease acquired by long practice.

THE EXPOSURE AND DEFEAT OF JOE SCOTT.
 The master-stroke of the majority members of the Board of Education on Tuesday evening will meet the unqualified approval of every friend of free education.

In putting a quietus to the unseemly, unjustifiable and destructive squabble, which had been injected into school affairs through the malevolence of Joe Scott, by declaring that, notwithstanding the trumpeted publicity given so-called "charges" against Superintendent of Schools Francis, they find no charges have been made and properly term them mere "objections;" by rescinding their action calling for an investigation and dismissing the whole matter from further consideration, the majority members have rendered a distinct service to the splendid school system of Los Angeles. To logically complete the miserable incident, but one more step is demanded—the resignation of Scott from the board he has disgraced.

What a sorry spectacle this self-appointed censor has made of himself in his efforts to control the education of 70,000 children, under a system lauded by educators as the best in the country but with which he is entirely out of harmony! For years he has treated with disrespect his colleagues on the board by seeking to do things behind their backs, the while professing solicitude for the public schools. He has made life miserable for them behind closed doors and upbraided them in open session, all of which they have borne with a fair degree of humility in order to avoid clashes with the "temperamentally unfit" member.

It has only continued so long without a break through the desire of a majority of Scott's colleagues and the superintendent to keep off anything that threatened to bring reproach upon the school system that has taken first place among the progressive systems of the nation.

The greatest stride in the direction of harmony is Scott's entire elimination from the Teachers and Schools Committee. How many good teachers have been deprived of fair treatment through his interference may be judged by his activity in behalf of his friends, as shown by the letters published by Supt. Francis.

Scott has been the steadfast objector to everything that failed to meet his approval, and has sought by technical delays and in other ways to circumvent the will of the majority; he has been the consistent fosterer of strife, but has conducted his activities so insidiously that the public has been slow to learn the truth; by his attitude toward the superintendent, whose functions he sought to usurp in many ways, he has encouraged insubordination and sneaking tactics, and is believed to have coached an under-official in an effort to discredit the superintendent, by his openly declared opposition to the intermediate schools he has been the actual force behind the agitation of a coterie to destroy their efficiency.

What right has a man of this sort to be a member of the Board of Education? Why did he wish to retain his place on the Teachers and Schools Committee? His offer at Tuesday night's meeting, to gamble for the place, sets a sorry example to school children; and its prompt repudiation by President Frank was a deserved rebuke.

The talk about the defeated minority being able to withhold the salary of the superintendent means nothing. The salary is fixed by the State law and the legal authority agrees that the superintendent, having been legally re-elected, will get his salary regardless of any dilatory tactics by a disgruntled minority.

THE "PORK BARREL."
 When the New York Journal of Commerce had finished looking over the Democratic river and harbor measure it declared that this was not a "bill," but a "scandal." The Democrats have talked of "economy," dined it as a campaign argument, paraded it as cause for compliments, set it up as an idol for an admiring and grateful nation to bow down to, in gratitude, and yet these same "economical" Democrats have manufactured and legislated the most astounding "pork-barrel" measure in the history of the nation. For the information of the uninformed it may be said that the "pork barrel" provides for appropriations in the districts of those Senators and Congressmen who desire to please and continue in the favor of their constituents. It is a sort of legalized graft.

The Chicago Evening Post presents these examples to illustrate the bill's provisions: "Cape Fear River, N. C., on which one steamboat makes a trip once a week, voted $33,271."

"Oklahoma River, Fla., ninety-four miles long, celebrated in verse thus: We have a crooked river that has a crooked name."

And grabs a crooked million while in a crooked game.

To make a crooked water power run up a crooked hill. It crooked your Uncle Samuel through a crooked river bill.

"Representative Frenar of Wisconsin is the author of the poem. He fought an appropriation of $733,000 for this river, but it went through."

The "pork-barrel" appropriations are primarily to convince constituents that their representatives at Washington have "some pull" and better be allowed to remain. Since the Democrats control Congress they were united in support but split the appropriations to suit individual exigencies.

The total appropriation of this character amounts to $33,529,475. It has been described frankly as for "no other purpose than to try to buy reelection to Congress by omnibus bribery of the electorate." The money is poured out oftentimes with no regard for probable transportation facilities, but only with a regard for getting money out of the United States Treasury and into the district of the Senator and Congressman.

The Engineering News says: "How strongly the beneficiaries of the present river and harbor systems are entrenched is proved by the fact that with all the exposures of its iniquities by such men as Senator Burton and President Taft, and many years ago by President Cleveland, and say nothing of many others of prominence, the system still continues to draw money from the national treasury in a flood which increases year by year. Sometimes, perhaps, some influential commercial or technical organization may be able to bring about a reform. Until that happens the nation will continue calmly to pour out millions a year into pools and ditches to perpetuate obsolete systems of transportation and benefit a traffic which has disappeared."

Unquestionably, government assistance in developing rivers and harbors is necessary. But this has been made the excuse for tremendous graft; there has been no uniformity of development; the appropriations are not always made honestly or intelligently. Senator Burton has recommended a plan for the national development of river transportation that cannot help but appeal to honest men, but Congress is blind to his proposal. He suggests that the general policy of improving the main streams be given attention before work is begun on the branch streams, and that the whole policy be regulated for utilizing the waterways profitably.

"GENTLEMEN, THE KING!"
 It is difficult for a British King to justify himself nowadays. He and his family are such an expensive luxury and matter so little!

He is quite frankly required as the merest of mere figureheads. Opinions on politics, in him, are a grave impertinence. He is not so much above politics as outside of them. His whole duty in life is to behave with suitable decorum, lay foundation stones, open universities and hospitals, make handsome contributions to charities and disaster funds, and meekly sign such acts of Parliament as are brought to him for the polite attachment of his signature.

To refuse to sign an act of Parliament would be absurd—monarchical suicide in the most reckless form. Only so long as he maintains the decorous behavior of an ineffectual ineptitude can he hope to be tolerated. As a host for foreign royalties he has his uses, but even they are not indispensable.

His subjects, too, have a playful way of making his superfluity felt. A small, insistent section of them have a very aggravating way of calling upon him to intervene when legislation is going against them. In the case of Ulster it has been exasperating. Now that Premier Asquith has made the brilliant move of making the King the cat paw of a "conference" to tide over an otherwise inevitable crisis, Ulster is grandly repudiating any desire for monarchical interference. But as a matter of fact, before her case looked so nearly won, Ulster had instigated a monster petition to a million insidious subjects, praying for his interference. That was more than a year ago. He wisely played deaf and toed refusing to see the deputation of suffragettes. Just as he did in repudiating any interest in the clipping of the claws of the House of Lords.

And now that he has interfered to the very mild and harmless extent of calling a "conference"—an eminently pacific intervention—he has aroused the indignation of thousands of his loyal (?) subjects. How dare he step down from his pedestal and become tarnished with the grime of politics?

Both monarchs and women find pedestals a little trying. We should not be at all surprised to find kings voluntarily descending from their pedestals and repudiating all claims to superiority. Democracy will be saved the necessity of dethroning them, even as in the case of women. Interference in politics proves bad for pedestals. And yet is so irresistible.

HOT DAYS

WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

The summer is here among us, thermometers swell, and burst; the weather man off has stung us, and now he has done his worst. The sky is like brass at present, the sky that was lately blue—but at present, it's cool and pleasant they're having their troubles, too! The breezes that come a-shov'lin' their way through the sweating town, seem fresh from a red hot oven, all baked to a luscious brown; and so, in despairing legions, we simmer and steam and stew—but up in the arctic regions they're having their troubles, too! We sigh for the ocean breezes, we sigh for the snow-capped hills, we long for the forest trees, the lakes or the rippling rills; our mouths are becoming fountains of words of a rich, dark blue—but off in the woods and mountains they're having their troubles, too! We're cursing around together, we say that the climate's bad; but, listen! It isn't weather that maketh man gay or sad! Let's dig up a better topic than weather that's gone askew, and e'en though the summer's tropic well all have our pleasures, too!

THE ART OF MAKING DO.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Of course, anyone who honestly confesses to a preference for cheap things can be no lady.

In an age when wealth spells all, the least one can do is to have decently luxurious ambitions. Real refinement buys cheaply, with a sigh and a pathetic little shudder, and hides the grim secret of making do from the cruel gaze of a purse-proud world.

Common pride yearns for the very best and feels that it is at least upholding its claims to social culture by explaining its cordial dissatisfaction with anything less. "Oh, it's a made-over thing," she will explain in petulant confidence, indicating last year's gown revived. And her tone cries out for sympathy that such as she should be brought to such ignominious straits.

All the same it's very exacting. I've given up trying to pretend that I'm a lady. So long as I can shamelessly, may even proudly, confess to a genuine preference for last year's hat retrimmed, and wax triumphant over an ingenious alteration of shape, I couldn't deceive anyone anyway. I may as well fess up and be a happy plebeian without more ado.

Of course one feels paltry in a case like that. Such small, trumpery ideas. Try as I would I never could regard $500 a month as anything but glittering wealth. Once or twice my income has reached that dizzy height and you haven't any idea how much swaggy I can get out of it. Even the Earl's footman failed to quell me on that. That $500 a month to me was like $5000 a month to anyone else.

I even went so far as to take some of the horrid remarks about the idle rich and the purse-proud vulgarities to myself. Gave a quarter tip instead of a dime once and felt all the gleeful pang of remorse about spoiling that waiter for less wealthy clients!

The first time I bought a pair of $4.50 shoes I felt so wicked that I went back and changed them for $3.50 ones and blew the rescued dollar on a 25-cent hat, special today, and half a dozen new dish towels. Then I felt happy.

Until I realized how impossible it would be for such a person to take her place in society with any conviction. The next time I wanted shoes I knew perfectly well that it was due to the honor of the family to pay more than $3.50 for them. So I took a haughty society girl with me—I knew even I wouldn't dare buy anything cheap with her looking on.

Somebody coaxed me into paying $15 for a hat once. It was ages ago and I still have nightmares over it. Even the reiterated information that it showed up the Grecian outline of my profile to advantage brought small comfort. It was only my wildest, loftiest altitude in the price of a hat. I can call it all the exuberant swank of a plutocrat out of $2.98.

When it is absolutely necessary for me to purchase a new dress—that is to say when all the last ones have been brilliantly made over several times and I have shamelessly proclaimed the fact to have to play all sorts of tricks on myself to bring my plebeian ideas up to anything like a reasonable social altitude. If I succumb to a $50 suit in the end, it is only because I see it with a futurist eye and perceive how it will dye and reappear annually for half a decade. What I go through resisting "This lot, gorgeous as it is," may none of my stylish friends ever know.

When we regarded ourselves as prosperous and comfortable on $60 a month I had no such troubles. Then I could encourage my plebeian tastes to may heart's content. For more than a year I enjoyed a positive orgy of made-over and makeshifts and a look back with plebeian pride upon a vista of shirt waists evolved from old skirts, turned widths, remodeled sleeves, ingenious appliques and 10-cent hats.

As for food, it is quite disgusting what I learned to do for a quarter. They have just held a mothercraft examination under the auspices of the London County Council in London and the lady who won the prize devised an appetizing dinner for four people out of a shilling. I grew envious as I read. I know I should disgrace the family by entering that competition if I were in England now.

Just as I did here the other day. Somebody suggested that the meat should be ordered. "But, my dear," said I remindfully, "you have forgotten the remains of that leg of lamb. We must finish that up first!"

They were dreadfully shocked—my parsimony was appalling. I hung my head in shame and paid the tribute of a parting sigh to all the clever ways I knew of "doing up" those remains. I am a hopeless case.

If I should ever marry some splendid rich man like Andrew Carnegie or Sir Thomas Lipton, for instance, think how utterly I should disgrace him!

A man should be careful to marry in his own class. Think of a gorgeous millionaire being humiliated with a wife who insisted upon footing her stockings and serving yesterday's mutton a la galantine! I should be certain to regard the gasoline for the automobile as exclusively for cleaning one's own kid gloves and silk waists. And there isn't a chief living who would stand for my tender inquiries after the remains of the cold potatoes. The first time I burst into the kitchen and explained how two saucers could be made to simmer on one gas jet, he would fire me—mean, he'd resign. And when the lady's maid made the awful discovery that I used the same hairpins forever till I lost them or they broke, it would be so humiliating. She'd never respect me again.

I think it will be only decent of me never to marry a millionaire whatever happens. I'd be certain to blast my hopes of happiness by using an old curtain for a bridal veil and chalking the spots on my white satin shoes.

SECRETLY SPEED AWAY
FOR EASTERN WEDDING.

Arthur Braly, Sr., of Pasadena and Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley of Glendale to Be Married in Chicago or Poughkeepsie This Week. It Is Reported. Elderly Couple to Make World Tour.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PASADENA, July 23.—Speeding eastward on the Santa Fe Limited is Mrs. Mary Howard Gridley, a wealthy widow and clubwoman of Glendale, and on a train that also left here Tuesday, the day of Mrs. Gridley's departure is Arthur Braly, Sr., of this city, and it is given on good authority that very soon, perhaps this week, they will register as Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braly.

Advices from Glendale say that Mrs. Gridley announced to a very select circle of friends that she was going East to be married. Here Mr. Braly told an equally select coterie of acquaintances that he was going East for the same purpose. To his children he gave all the facts, saying, it is related, that the wedding is to be consummated in Chicago.

Perhaps the woman may have the final say, however, for Mrs. Gridley is said to have decided that the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Kirk of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is the place for the wedding and thither they are on their way.

Mr. Braly is 81 years old and wealthy; Mrs. Gridley is 73 and well supplied with worldly goods. After the wedding they propose to let out a few links of the golden chain and make a trip around the world on the honeymoon.

The two families are looking upon the marriage of the elderly couple with diverse opinions. It is alleged that the Braly children are, or have been, averse to the marriage. On the other hand, the match has served to reconcile Mrs. Gridley and her sister, Mrs. Harriett Squires, of the New Marlyton Hotel in Los Angeles, after an estrangement of twenty-five years. The news of the wedding is said to have been the first words exchanged between the two sisters for a quarter of a century.

Mr. Braly has been living with his son, Arthur Braly, Jr., in this city. His estate has already been divided and deeded to his children, who are required to pay him an income during life said to be $3000 a month. His late wife has been dead about a year. On returning he is said to be prepared to take his wife to a new home in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gridley is the widow of the late Gen. Richard Howard Gridley. She is president of the Glendale Shakespeare Club, past president of the Glendale Woman's Club, organizer of two chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and past president of each. She owns a beautiful home on Brand boulevard in Glendale, and two ten-acre ranches, one planted to oranges and the other to lemons. She is aunt of Howard Squires and Mrs. Nellie Meigs of Los Angeles.

AUTO-BUS REGULATIONS.
The question of what shall be done to regulate the auto-bus service that has been established by a number of owners of small automobiles between the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street and different parts of the city will come to a head this morning. A conference will be held at the City Hall between the automobile men and the City Commissioners.

The practice started several months ago, when an automobilist began to take passengers to Lamanda Park at half the fare charged by the Pacific Electric Railway Company. Soon several cars were running, and now there are so many of them that the Commissioners declare something will have to be done to prevent their impeding traffic at the common downtown terminus of their routes.

Much attention was given to the subject several nights ago in North Pasadena at the mass meeting called to protest against the proposed plan of the Pacific Electric company to build but a single track on North Lake avenue.

President Shoup of the company was asked for an expression on the subject and declared that he did not think it right that the property owners should ask the railway company to make expensive improvements and then patronize the automobiles. Others objected the life and limb is endangered in the overcrowding of these automobiles, and City Commissioner Allyn then declared that he was glad the subject had been brought up. He said that the City Commission had long felt the same way about it, but that it did not desire to prevent their initiative in the matter and then be criticised for doing so.

SUICIDE PACT
AT MEXICALI.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CALIXICO, July 22.—A suicide pact was entered into last night by E. M. Litten, a gambler of Mexicali, and his associate, Viola Hudson, who was the mother of three children and separated from her husband and family of Miami, Ariz.

The suicide was discovered when Litten summoned inmates of the resort telling them Viola was dying. It was thought he had forced her to swallow poison, but when they turned to call a physician he locked the door of the room and when it was broken open he was also found dying from a dose of cyanide of potassium.

Mrs. Hudson's body was shipped to her father's home at Roosevelt Dam, and Litten, whose father is proprietor of a cigar stand in Lompoc, Cal., was buried in Mexicali. Neither of the two had any funds.

The Commission that he does not consider that the city is liable for the damages.

It is the contention of club that had the city not diverted the water from its natural course its property would not have been damaged.

CITY BRIEFS.
Plans are being prepared by the water department for the erection of a purification plant in the Arroyo Seco.

Mrs. Edmund D. Barry of No. 229 South Orange Grove avenue and her two daughters, the Misses Geraldine and Adelaide, will leave this week for a trip on the European continent.

The Humane Society is having a hard time this week collecting dogs. Though it is estimated that there are about 1200 dogs in the city and the license fees became due July 1, but 400 tags have been issued.

John Shepard, a millionaire resident of Boston, who has passed several winters at Hotel Raymond, and who now has his home on South Orange Grove avenue, was struck by an automobile driven by a Japanese boy by the name of Serey in his postoffice yesterday afternoon.

Though he was dragged from under the car by bystanders, he received a number of cuts and scratches.

BREAK DEADLOCK
BY NINE VOTES.

INCUMBENT RE-ELECTED CITY TRUSTEE AFTER FIRST TIE BALLOT.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
COVINA, July 22.—William Hoogendyk, manager of the Charter Oak orange packing-house, was defeated by nine votes for the office of City Trustee in the election held in two precincts yesterday.

The election was held especially to decide the question of the proposed bond issue for the improvement of the city streets, who were tied on votes at the regular election held three months ago.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.
Pueño street, near the south line of Covina city, is ready for the top surfacing, having been laid down in macadam for a distance of one mile. Work is being pushed on the installation of ornamental lights on Citrus avenue. Similar lights will be installed on Badillo street and San Bernardino road this fall. Plans and specifications for the macadamizing of College street, Italia street and Second street are being prepared by the City Trustee by City Engineer F. G. Desarry.

In the territory immediately outside of Covina city the road known as Lark Ellen boulevard, connecting the valley boulevard with Pomona boulevard across the Baldwin plains, has been completed. This is six miles of macadam and joins Puente with Covina by a fine roadway through the English walnut section on the front of the Board of Supervisors for the macadamizing of Orange street from Covina to Puente. The route is parallel with the one just completed. Property owners on Cypress avenue and Grand avenue have also petitioned for macadamized Supermarket. Superintendent Manning says that Grand avenue will be constructed this fall.

OLD MAN BLUDGEONED.
Charles Cantonwine, an aged man in ill-health, while walking home the evening was struck down with a blackjack in the hands of an unknown subject who had been brought up. FEAR TO FACE
TENSE TEMPER.

Peace-making Committee Gracefully Backs Out.

Job of Pacifying Council and Mayor Too Great.

Long Beach Builders Testing Foundation Soil.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
LONG BEACH, July 22.—Business men who are having a hard time trying to make peace between Mayor Wheaton and the City Council, and who at a recent meeting appointed a peace-making committee, may now have to appoint another committee to keep peace among the peace-makers and to hold the committee in place.

Dr. Henry I. Rasmus, pastor of the First Methodist Church, one of the members, resigned today and it became known that P. H. Uptike, the other member, will probably be unable to serve because of press of business. Dr. Rasmus has prevailed upon G. H. Welch, No. 330 Cerritos avenue, to serve.

Dr. Rasmus was told by prominent members of the Methodist Church that they did not want him to mix in politics. They pointed out to him that he had tackled too huge a job in trying to get the Council to embrace Wheaton, and he resigned out of deference to their wishes. Bankrupt Uptike does not like the outlook and may withdraw entirely tomorrow. Welch is a newcomer here, retired, and has all kinds of time to take up the Herculean task, perhaps alone, although there were to be three members of the committee.

Meanwhile more than one member of the Council today stated that either Mayor Wheaton will resign or the whole Council will get out. This alternative is in the hands of the Mayor, who is trying to avert.

TESTING FORMATION.
Preparatory to testing the soil to find out whether it will support an eight-story building, the promoters of the proposed Markwell building on Ocean avenue at the foot of Pine avenue today began the work of negotiating with Fletcher for about $100,000. To acquire the site it was necessary for the water company to buy all of the three ranches in the valley, as follows: Thomas Carroll, 360 acres; James B. Carroll, 726 acres; Everett E. Nulton, 668 acres.

Fletcher has asserted that the building of a dam site in Crescent Valley would make available 110 miles of the Pomona watershed and he has told San Diego that if the deal goes through he would be able to deliver water from the Crescent Valley to San Diego by the spring of 1915.

VETERAN FALLS DEAD AT WORK.
REPAIRING MACHINERY TOO MUCH FOR AGED HEART OF OLD SOLDIER.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
OWENSMOUTH, July 22.—Rapid progress is being made on the new highway connecting the west end of the San Fernando Valley with the ocean. This will be one of the most scenic drives in Southern California and will be a valuable acquisition to the good roads system of the county.

The work is being prosecuted at three points and some six miles of the four-mile traverse of the road has been graded. It is expected that the skyline will be reached this week. This is the highest point covered by this route, the elevation being 481 feet. So carefully has the survey been made that the heaviest grade is only 1.88 per cent.

The Suburban Homes Company has fifty-five head of stock at work on the Owensmouth end of the road, the county has a large force midway between the valley and the ocean, while the southern portion is being worked by the chain gang.

PATS FOR UNIFORMS.
The box social and dance given by the Owensmouth baseball team last evening netted the boys some $40, which enabled the club to complete the purchase of the new navy blue suits recently purchased.

REALTY BOARD'S SHOE PINCHES.
MEMBERS REFUSE TO OBEY LAW THEY THEMSELVES HAD ENACTED.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
ORANGE, July 22.—The members of the Orange Realty Board a year ago asked the City Trustees to shove the realty dealers' license up to $25 a year and to prohibit the soliciting of realty deals in the city plaza.

Today the members of the realty board refused to pay the license, saying that the plan has not worked out to their benefit, as the curbstone and plaza talkers are still doing business.

Since the city has the law it intends to enforce it and a test case will probably be brought against one of the dealers.

RECORD COTTON PICKER.
CALEXICO, July 22.—The world's record for cotton pickers in the month of July was established on the ranch of Ivey Bros. of Calexico today. The record picker weighed in with 667 pounds of cotton. The average for July, or the first picking, is usually small. On the same ranch was produced the earliest bale of cotton ever produced in the United States. This year promises a record cotton crop in the Imperial Valley in quality and quantity.

POKES HATPIN INTO EYEBALL.
LONG BEACH, July 22.—While trying to pin on her hat today, Miss A. Hickey, No. 239 West Third street, jabbed the pin into her left eye, piercing the ball. She rushed to a physician who is trying to save the optic.

MILK-USERS
FEAR RABIES.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SANTA MONICA, July 22.—Chief of Police E. E. Randall today issued orders that after Friday no dogs will be allowed to run the streets unmuzzled. His order follows the capture and killing of a supposed mad-dog here yesterday. The animal's head was cut off and forwarded to the medical professors at Berkeley for examination for rabies. The dead dog bit three others yesterday and was killed by an officer. It also sunk its fangs into a cow and a horse.

A cow bitten by a dog some time ago was killed and its head sent to the university. People who had been using the cow's milk were frightened until reassured by Health Officer Kendall that rabies could not be transferred in that manner. The cow had been strangely ill and a doctor diagnosed the case as rabies.

At Santa Monica two children were bitten by a dog and rabies was feared. The animal was killed and its head sent North.

FIRST PAYMENT FOR DAM SITE.
CRESCENT VALLEY SUPPLY OF WATER CONSERVED FOR DOMESTIC USE.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
ESCONDIDO, July 22.—The Volcan Water Company, through Col. Edward Fletcher, has made the first payment on the purchase price of the Carroll dam site, so-called, in the Crescent Valley, a few miles east of Escondido, which forms the drainage for the San Pasqual River en route from the mountains to the ocean at Del Mar.

The Carroll dam site is included in the proposition which Fletcher has offered to sell to the city of San Diego as a supply of water for domestic and fire purposes. The proposition consists of 400 square miles of watershed. The Carroll dam site is supposed to have been negotiated by Fletcher for about $100,000. To acquire the site it was necessary for the water company to buy all of the three ranches in the valley, as follows: Thomas Carroll, 360 acres; James B. Carroll, 726 acres; Everett E. COLLIER ASKS DIVORCE
FOR MENTAL CRUELTY.

Charges Wife With Having Violent Temper and Causing Him Unjustly—Madame Demands Separation Maintenance and Large Weekly Allowance—Family Differences Cause Sensation in San Diego.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN DIEGO, July 21.—Charging his wife with extreme mental cruelty, Col. D. C. Collier, former president of the Panama-California Exposition, through his attorney, A. J. Morganstern, filed an action late this afternoon for divorce from Mrs. Ella Copley Collier, following the filing of a suit for separate maintenance by her against him yesterday.

Owing to the prominence of Col. Collier, who has been a moving spirit in San Diego affairs for years, and of Mrs. Collier, a member of a prominent family, the two actions, unexpected by their friends, have caused a flutter in business and social circles.

Mrs. Collier asks the court for $125 a week and alleges that Collier deserted her on August 10, 1913. The complaint states that Collier is president of the proposed Southwestern Pacific Railroad, with a salary of $10,000 a year.

Mrs. Collier says there has been no desertion between her and Collier and she knows of no reason for his desertion of her, as he left her on the best of terms August 10 for a "trip abroad." She says she was notified by Collier's attorney, greatly to her surprise, Monday night, that if she did not apply for a divorce he would.

"I do not believe in divorce, which I think the crime of the nation," said Mrs. Collier today. "So I would not consider to apply for one but I was driven to this action by his intended action."

SHERIFFS, RAILROAD AGENTS

AND POLICE CHIEFS IN

ORGANIZATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) July 22.—

A union of three big criminal-catching agencies was evolved today at the meeting of the International Order of Sheriffs, the International Association of Railroad Special Agents and the International Police Chiefs' Association.

The object of the union is to bring about a better co-operation among all peace officers. With the Sheriff watching the county, the Police Chief the city, and the railroad special agent

the railroads, under this system of co-operation, it ought to be almost impossible for a criminal to get away.

said J. W. Connolly, president of the special agents' organization, who outlined the plan for the new organization. The plan is to have a central office conveniently located and in connection with this central office there will be a bureau of identification.

PEST DENUDES
OREGON FIELDS.

MILLIONS OF ARMY WORMS

HAVE INVADED MULTNOMAH

COUNTY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

GRESHAM (Or.) July 22.—An invasion of army worms is threatened in all of eastern Multnomah county.

A large area is being denuded of vegetation.

The worms are to be seen in thousands, wending their way across the fields, stripping everything bare as they go. It is feared that the pest will spread all over this section.

The last invasion was in 1899,

when great damage was done all over the district between Mt. Tabor and the Sandy River. Since then the worms have not been seen. Old settlers say that the worms range from fifteen to thirty years. Two previous invasions are remembered by the pioneers.

It appears to be useless to combat the pests, as they are too numerous to cope with.

ANGELENO ELECTROCUTED.

Body Chained to Crisp by High-

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, July 22.—J. L. Ruse, aged 42, of Los Angeles, was electrocuted seventy miles east of here on the Big Creek River at 8 o'clock this morning.

Ruse, who is a lineman employed by the Pacific Light and Power Company, had climbed a pole sustaining

a high-tension wire and was preparing to descend to the ground, when he slipped and struck a wire carrying high voltage. He was hurled back and fell to the ground. His body was badly burned. He had been dead several hours when his fellow-workmen found him chained to the pole. He was found at the foot of the pole.

The power company was exonerated of any blame in the matter by the verdict of an inquest, in which it was held that Ruse died from electrocution, and that the accident was caused by his own carelessness.

Deputy Coroner J. Stephens

of Fresno conducted the inquest.

Ruse, with other linemen, had been stationed at power plant No. 2, located near the eastern end of the San Joaquin and Eastern Railway line.

HUNDREDS AT WORK.

The work is pushed in San Francisco by the Chamber of Commerce, Steele, who is secretary of the Democratic County Central Committee, last night had secured hundred workers combing the city for signers.

Every registered voter found upon the streets after dark was tagged, and few escaped. Each signature represents 11 cents, spent by the people to interest themselves in a constitutional amendment that will permit of the consolidation of Los Angeles city and county and any other city and county that cares to do the same thing.

CONWELL DISCUSSES IT.

Councilman Conwell, who is the "father" of the movement to bring about this constitutional amendment,

so as to pave the way for the proper distribution of Los Angeles city and county waters, in discussing the general

project, said yesterday:

For twenty years the question has been agitated. The reasons are clear and convincing. The time has come for action. The opportunity is now open for citizens of Los Angeles city and county to act. To put into practical effect a measure which will make an immense sum in taxes and will make for efficiency, convenience and simplicity and economy in public business.

The proposed amendment was drawn with great care by the attorneys of our own city and San Francisco, and was approved by leading lawyers of both cities. It is eminently fair in every detail, absolutely free from corruption.

The signing of the petition does not commit the city to consolidation, but merely provides a method by which consolidation may be brought about by the consent of all parties interested.

Even after the necessary number of signatures have been secured, we will require at least three years before actual consolidation may be effected, for the reason that the people of this city and county would first be required to express their desire for consolidation, and then to agree upon a charter which could be submitted to the Legislature.

However, we are prepared to take advantage of the enabling act passed

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council will adhere to its policy of last year, making no reductions to nominal amounts on assessments of schools and charitable organizations, but referring such requests to the Municipal Charities Commission for determination as to what donations shall be made to each.

Mrs. Rudelinda F. S. de Dodson has agreed to deed to the city for the nominal sum of $200 a desirable lot at the harbor for a firehouse site. The new budget contained an item of $3000 for this purpose.

The Council yesterday approved the action of the Budget Committee in cutting off the salaries of members of the Board of Education. The city has no "school fund" from which to pay such salaries.

Payments on Exposition Park assessment No. 3 are coming in with a larger daily average than usual in large assessment collections. All assessments must be paid by August 4.

The Council yesterday ratified the action of the Public Service Commission in purchasing the system of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company.

A young husband suing for divorce denying the parentage of a blind child, was confronted with evidence yesterday that he had made love to another girl. The court continued the case to get the deposition of the wife at Staunton, Va.

A trust provision in a mother's will under which the three children would have had to await the passing of years, was broken in the Probate Court yesterday, the court holding that all of the trust must come out of the $50,000 estate instead of a part.

ASSESS FULLY. THEN DONATE.

POLICY OF THE COUNCIL FOR CHARITABLE BODIES.

It Denied All Requests for Reductions but Refers Cases to Municipal Charities Commission With Recommendation for Favorable Consideration.

The City Council this year will stand firmly on the policy adopted a year ago of refusing to allow reductions of assessments on schools and charitable organizations to nominal amounts. It will insist that this class of property be assessed the same as private holdings, and that the various cases that appeal for reductions be referred to the Municipal Charities Commission for action as to donations to offset the taxes paid in, or such portion as the work of each organization justifies.

A special committee, representing the Council's board of equalization, composed of Councilmen Conwell, Bryant, Williams and Whiffen, met with numerous petitions for reductions yesterday afternoon. The hearing was a spirited one, especially in the case of the representatives of the Y.M.C.A.

After all the delegations had been heard the committee stated its position and declared that the Council will adhere to the policy of last year.

This is deemed just to the city as a whole because it keeps the total assessed valuation at its proper figure, and thus protects the bonding capacity of the city. It will work no hardship on the organizations that can make a showing of doing really useful work in a charitable or semi-charitable capacity, as the Council will refer all such applications to the Municipal Charities Commission for determination as to what percentage of the total taxes paid shall be given to the concerns as donations. Last year the average of 50 per cent. of the taxes paid by such institutions was returned as donations.

The organizations that had delegations before the special committee yesterday were the Y.M.C.A., the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Episcopal City Mission, the McKinley Boys' Industrial Home, the Neighborhood Settlement, the Red Haven Association and the Southern California Home for Women and Children.

LIBERAL OFFER.

NOMINAL SUM FOR LOT.

Mrs. Rudelinda F. S. de Dodson of the harbor has set an example in liberality to the municipality that the City Council is hopeful may be followed in many instances. She has made it possible for the city to acquire a most valuable site for a firehouse in the harbor town for the nominal sum of $200. The new budget contains an item of $3000 for the purpose of acquiring a lot in the harbor for a firehouse site. One-tenth of this sum will give the city just what it desires.

Mrs. Dodson yesterday sent to the Council a deed to lot No. 13, block No. 24, of the Rudelinda tract, the location being on the east side of Twelfth street, adjacent by an alley, and within one tier of lots of Gaffey street. The situation is considered highly desirable for a firehouse location.

Recently members of the Finance Committee called upon Mrs. Dodson and discussed with her the desirability of the city regarding the securing of such a lot, and the result is that she has declared her intention to deed the property to the city for the nominal sum of $200.

The city wishes to secure other firehouse sites in various portions of the city, and hopes that public-spirited citizens will be prompted by Mrs. Dodson's example to make most liberal offers.

WHOLE PAY EMP?

BOARD WITHOUT SALARIES.

The Council yesterday adopted the report of the Budget Committee and the new budget, its action cut off the salaries of the members of the Board of Education.

The charter provides that these board members shall receive a salary of $10 per diem for time served in meetings, to be paid for out of the "school fund." The city has no such fund, nor has it had since the schools were taken from the direct management of the municipal government and placed in control of the Board of Education for the Los Angeles school district.

The city, however, has paid the salaries up to the present time, although there has been a strong feeling among the Councilmen that this was unjust.

The school board cannot use the money in its control to pay itself salaries, and the question arises as to who will pay. The subject was discussed in the Council yesterday before the report was accepted.

"The Mayor has specifically stated that if this Council included in the budget money for these salaries he would veto that portion of it," stated President Whiffen.

Councilman Belkouski opined that the school board had the Council "where the hair is short," and that it would promptly institute mandamus proceedings to compel the payment of the salaries. Others were of the opinion that as various commissions are served by public-spirited men and women who do not receive salaries, the members of the school board should be willing to do likewise, and that as the city has no "school fund" the court would not compel it to create one for the purpose of paying these salaries. The vote to adopt was unanimous.

Back of this is a grievance against the Board of Education, in that it refuses to take over the payment of school bonds that were carried into the city had direct control of the schools, and a considerable portion of which are still unsecured. The result is that the old portion of the city has to bear this special burden, while an area of 207 square miles within the school district enjoys the benefit.

NEW AUDIT.

TAX COLLECTION FIGURES.

City Auditor Myers announces that he has had in contemplation for some time another audit of the Tax Collector's records, and that this will be commenced as soon as work under way in other departments is completed.

On June 23, 1913, I completed an audit of the previous year's collection of taxes," says Mr. Myers. "To my knowledge, this was the first 'fine-tooth-comb' audit that has ever been made by a City Auditor of this department. In my report I made a number of recommendations, several of which have since been carried into effect, and which I am sure are making for greater efficiency in that department."

BRINGING IN COIN.

EXPOSITION PARK LEVY.

Maj. Folmer, who is in charge of the collection of the third assessment for Exposition Park, stated yesterday that the collection is progressing well, the average daily payments being above those usual, assessments of strict collections. The collection has been in progress for about two weeks and more than $10,000 of the total of $20,000 has been deposited.

The assessment applies to more than 36,000 parcels of land, the boundaries of the district being the same as those for former assessments. Property owners have until August 10 to meet these assessments, and the usual many are postponing payment until the last few days of the time limit.

BUDGET IS APPROVED.

COUNCIL THANKS COMMITTEE.

The ears of the members of the Finance Committee of the City Council must have burned yesterday because of the praise and words of appreciation showered upon them by other members of the Council. Every member has been rejoicing that he was not detailed to participate in the arduous labors that fall to the lot of this committee. Its painstaking and careful work was highly praised, and a vote of thanks was given the committee.

The budget was adopted by unanimous vote.

Councilman Wheeler raised objection to that portion of the budget which provides for the Public Utilities department where no provision is made for the salaries of Railroad Engineer, Mohler and his two assistants. He stated that he wanted further time to investigate this phase, although it has been generally discussed for many days past and a majority of the Council favor cutting off these salaries.

It is understood that strong pressure is being brought to bear by friends of Mr. Mohler to secure his retention of this $3600 berth, and that while the budget has been approved without these salary items in it, an attempt will be made to have the salaries provided for from the general fund.

IT'S RATIFIED.

WATER SYSTEM PURCHASE.

The City Council yesterday ratified the action of the Public Service Commission in purchasing the water system of the Glendale Consolidated Water Company for $1,375,000.

The first payment will be $5000 and the city has one year to complete the payments. The city must continue to supply water to the fifteen service stations that lie outside the municipal limits.

It is the purpose of the Public Service Commission to acquire the other private water-distributing systems within the city as rapidly as the details can be arranged. The valuation placed upon the Glendale Consolidated Water Company's plant by Chief Engineer Mulholland of the water department has been submitted to the public utility commission, and it is understood that it is considerably lower than the $1,100,000 valuation placed upon the plant by the public utility commission, and that the city would be willing to take over the plan. The plan is being discussed of forming a district for the purpose of paying for such portion of this plant.

CITY HALL SHORT STOPS.

The Council yesterday decided to postpone for one week hearings on the protests against the improvement of Sixth street, San Pedro, and the plan for joint action in cutting the harbor boulevard through Nob Hill and raising the hill properties at the same time.

E. Wuestch is the lowest bidder for the construction of a sewer in Moneta avenue, between Florence and Mission avenues, having bid $7396. He made an appeal to the Board of Public Works yesterday, stating that he was not aware when he submitted the bid that water would be encountered, but that tests have disclosed this condition and that the work is worth at least $1000 more than his bid. He asks that the board readvertise for bids at his expense.

The board has the subject under advisement, and the City Engineer has been asked to make an estimate of the cost under the water handicap.

The City Council yesterday authorized the Harbor Commission to purchase the temporary railroad tracks and equipment on Municipal Wharf No. 1, used by State and Triest lines, for the connection of the wharf. The road will be used in filling the space back of the wharf with earth taken from the wharf.

Councilman Wheeler yesterday advocated an amendment to the discharging ordinance prohibiting girls being employed by their parents.

He says that after an investigation

he has become convinced that there is serious need for such a prohibition for the sake of public morals.

The City Council yesterday granted an additional $200 to the Chief of Police for secret service work.

President Wright of the Board of Public Utilities has asked the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance relating to the operation of lines of motor buses to obtain franchises from the city as public utility concerns.

The organization of teamsters in the street department known as the Teamsters' Benevolent Association will hold an important business meeting in Burbank Hall Saturday evening. Various members of the City Council have been addressing this organization from week to week.

DIVORCE SUIT HAS KICK-BACK.

HUSBAND WARMLY DENOUNCED BY ATTORNEY.

Denying Parentage of Blind Child and Alleging Misconduct of His Absent Wife, He Is Confronted With Evidence That He Made Love to Girl Here.

Denying the parentage of a blind child and protesting that he had married the mother under coercion, Ernest C. Stover, suing Ethel L. Stover for divorce on the ground of misconduct, was confronted yesterday with the startling evidence that he had made love to Miss Sada Crain of this city.

Judge Monroe showed young Mr. Stover a letter written to this young woman and in which it was stated that he had made love to her. He said it was, then he denied writing it, but finally admitted sending it to the girl after the court ordered a subpoena for the girl and her mother. She was just a good friend, he said.

The letter, addressed "My dear little girl," stated that there was only one Sada in this world. "You can find most everything you lose, but you never find love. There is only one love, and if I have lost this, it never will be found, Sada. If you can't love me, all I ask is to be a good friend."

"She asked me to marry her," said Stover. "I told her I was a married man."

A letter with a sting in it was read by the court. It was to Mrs. Lydia A. Crain of No. 423 West Seventh street, this city, from H. H. Kerr, Commonwealth Attorney of Staunton, Va., the home of Stover's father. The letter is the mother of Miss Sada Crain, and the letter was in reply to a letter she sent to Sheriff W. A. Wilson of Augusta, Va. Under date of July 9, 1913, Attorney Kerr had this to say:

"I regret very much, indeed, that this boy (Stover) should ever have been born. He is a disgrace to his name. Stover has a wife and a boy. The story of his marriage and the fact that his wife is absolutely contemptible. He has shown himself to be a consummate scoundrel."

He was indicted here about a year ago for desertion and non-support and gave bail with his father's security. He skipped his bond and his father had to pay the same, and this letter is the first indication that I have had as to his whereabouts."

Stover's father is a fairly good man, but for personal injuries he has as they get, and if there is any information or assistance that I can render in having him prosecuted in California, I will be glad to do so."

"My advice to you is to break this proposition up in your own family without delay, as Stover is no good."

Mr. Stover said that the picture was broken up, as it appeared, as he stated the young woman is now married.

He declared that Mr. Stover had ruined her home and that women were all he cared for.

"I will get Ernest proper when he comes back to Staunton," she wrote. "We are waiting for him."

Judge Monroe continued the case for depositions to be taken in Virginia and from the Crains.

COURTHOUSE PARAGRAPHS.

PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

FEES AND DAMAGES. Neher & Skilling, the architects and interior decorators, sued for $1900 architects' fees, and a suit for $25,000 damages has been brought against them by the administrator of the estate of the late Mrs. Alice B. Cohn. The suits grew out of the erection of the fashionable Kendra apartments at Sixth and Union avenues. Neher & Skilling were dismissed, it is alleged, before completion of the work.

SUBSCRIPTION BOYS OFF ON WILD GOAT CHASE.

VALON, July 22.—Immediately after breakfast ended Thursday morning the boys started off after the much-wanted wild goat for camp mascot and to win the eight-day extra vacation offered as a prize to the boy who captures the first wild goat of the season.

Several of the more enterprising guests of the camp have tried secretly to outstrip one of these foot-footed inhabitants of the island and secure the much-sought-for prize, but none have been successful.

The hunt always ends in consumed provisions and a tramp back to camp from all points of the island, where, it is said, many herds of wild goats roam.

Before starting every boy equipped himself with a good supply of water and provisions consisting of "Luxury" bread sandwiches, "Santa Ana" butter, "Blue Ribbon" raisins, special individual cakes made of "Sperry" flour and flavored to a perfection with "Newmark's" flavoring extracts, cold meats, and many other delicacies. PROUD FATHER. C. A. Pettit, an employee of the City Engineer's office, Santa Monica, more particularly noted as the father of eleven children, was one of the class of sixty-two for naturalization in Judge Wood's court yesterday. He was vouched for by R. R. Tanner, City Attorney of Santa Monica, and passed with flying colors. Mr. Pettit has been a resident of Santa Monica since 1905.
